FOREWORD

This annual represents the efforts of many persons who have endeavored to bring you a picture of this year at Needham Broughton through the 1952 LATIPAC. It is unusual for the LATIPAC to be dedicated to two members of the faculty, but this year the Senior Class wanted to honor jointly two outstanding leaders. A history of the Senior Class has been added to complete the high school memories for some, and just begin them for many others. At the end of this book are the advertisements, without which our annual could not have been published.

DEDICATION

To Walter J. Gale and Joseph Q. Holliday we, the Senior Class of 1952, do proudly dedicate this volume.

We have found in their friendship an overflowing cup of service, guidance, and love.

Their patient persistence and understanding have raised to a higher level the quality of our actions and thoughts.

From whom, by daily contact, we have come to forget the bad and recognize only the good in our teachers and classmates.

Of Mr. Gale we say

"He tried each art, reproved each dull delay,

Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way."

And of Mr. Holliday;

"But in his duty prompt at every call
He watched and wept, he prayed and felt for all."

Alma Mater, we salute thee,
Bounteous giver hear our praise
For within thy walls we've garnered
Gifts enriching all our days;
Opportunity for friendship,
Guidance in our quest for truth
Faith through all our grave endeavor,
Understanding love of youth.
These our gifts, O Alma Mater,
We shall cherish through the days
Striving still through high endeavor
Thus to render thee our praise.

CLASSES

Senior Class of '52

We, the senior class of 1952, stand looking back over the five years of school life. We remember especially our senior year. Being measured for caps and gowns and taking aptitude tests made us realize that at last we were seniors. The Queen of Hearts was more interesting than usual because we were represented by five girls. Our last Junior-Senior will remain an unforgettable memory.

Now we realize how much our teachers have meant to us. Whatever success we may gain will be due to their patient instructions.

To us Broughton is companionship and work. We will try to be good examples of what we have learned. You can be sure that no matter where we are; in college, at work, or in the service, we will never forget our alma mater.

Student Council

In the spring of 1951 the Student Council began preparing for the 1951-1952 season. Officers were elected and committees appointed. Bobby Gaddy was elected president on nominations and the following officers were elected in the run-offs; Jesse Chappell, vice-president; Caroline Bickett, secretary; and Verne Caviness, sergeant-at-arms. A faculty committee appointed Billy Dozier treasurer and manager of the school store. The officers and appointed committees were soon installed with each member of the executive council of the previous year summarizing his duty and introducing his successor.

The Student Council started making its plans for the new year in late August before school began by having an executive council meeting; and also potted plants of welcome for all the teachers were placed in the rooms by the Hospitality Committee on the first day of school.

By late September the Student Council had given a welcome party to the eighth grade and had sponsored the successful drive of the selling of athletic season tickets.

A clean-up campaign, the selling of Hi-Times Covers, a cafeteria good-conduct drive, and the sponsoring of the many festivities of Homecoming made interesting projects in October.

November and December were the months that one of the major projects of the Council was accomplished. This was the issuing to the students of the Student Council Evaluation Ballot on which they could criticize their Council. These ballots gave to each student the opportunity to have a voice in his government. The results were excellent and proved to the Council that the students were capable of many responsibilities. Also during December a holiday clean-up campaign was sponsored and a gay Christmas Dance held that increased the interest and enthusiasm of all.

After the holidays were over the Council sponsored a Student-Faculty Basketball Game which was enjoyed by everyone.

During the year many other projects were sponsored by the Council that few students recognized. Some of these were: The Chartering of buses to athletic games, the assembly programs, the school store, the sponsoring of elections, the student telephone, and many daily things that were taken for granted. In conclusion the Student Council is an organization which is essential to Broughton and which is responsible for the many pleasures we, the students, enjoy.

Service Club

*President.....*TOOKIE DESERN
*Vice-President.....*BILLY DOZIER
*Secretary-Treasurer.....*MARY CHAPPELL
*Sergeant-at-Arms.....*BOBBY HOLLIS

The Service Club was organized by the Student Council to give recognition to students who had done outstanding work and had not been recognized for it. These students did voluntary work for the Student Council, office, publications, and class. Every student and teacher has the privilege of nominating someone for the Service Club. A meeting is held to discuss each candidate and then vote on them. A unanimous vote must be received in order to be admitted into the club.

The Service Club holds two ceremonies before the student body, one in the fall for seniors only, and one in the spring for juniors with not more than two seniors being inducted. The membership never exceeds 25. The names of the new members are not revealed until the program when the name cards are unfolded by present members. As the spotlight beams on the name, the student goes to the stage and a summary of his service to the school is read.

Winged Words

The literary Magazine, Winged Words, was first begun last year on the basis that all publications were to be completely original. Proudly, we sent many of our first issues to schools in other states. From these schools, we received much praise and in the spring of last year, Winged Words was on display in the library of Columbia University.

This year, under the direction of editor Roberta Dixon and writing editor, Susan Hayes, the staff began early in the fall to read and reread manuscripts. Meanwhile art editor, Tommie Williamson, was designing the cover for the magazine, much work was being done by publicity editor, Anita Fletcher, and corresponding editor, Linda Piland was busy answering letters from places as distant as Japan, requesting copies of the magazine. After the manuscripts were selected, they were sent to Alida Barnett for typing and to Kathleen Matthews for proofreading. Our layout editor was Marlyn Bridges and our Business Manager was Pat Furlong. After the work was completed the first issue was sent to press with plans for it to be ready to be distributed by the middle of January.

We are, indeed proud of our original student literary magazine which this year received National acclaim by the magazine, Know-How.

In October, the first of eight issues of the Hi-Times went to press using newsprint instead of the regular slick paper. Clyde Robinson contributed two editorials an issue on the problems of the students. Better attitudes, scholarship, and a better all-round student were asked for by Clyde.

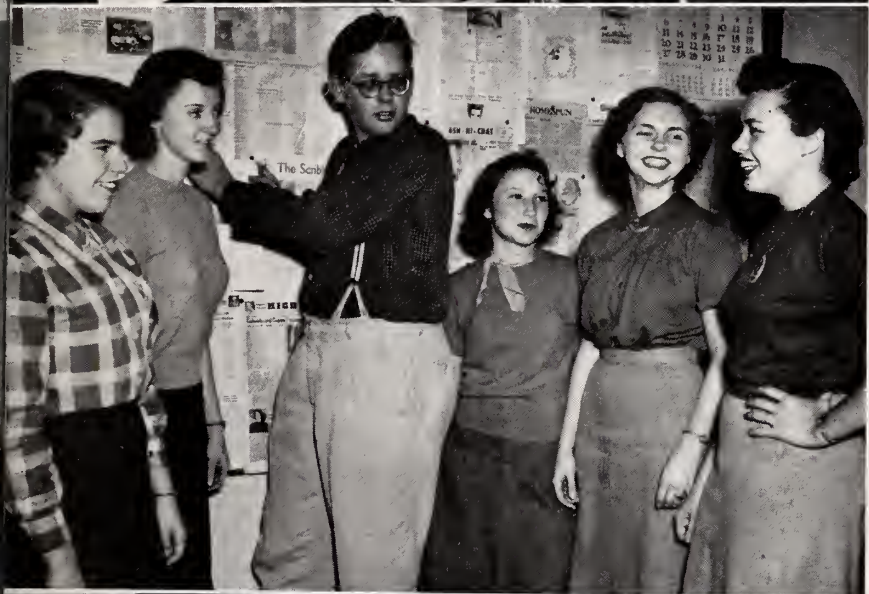

Arlene Griset as editor, and Miss Paschal as adviser, decided on an original idea for the Christmas issue. A four-column picture was used including all of the children of the faculty members and featuring Morrison Hogwood as Santa Claus. For this issue, slick paper and green print was used.

Green, and Jean Robinson had charge of two pages. The latter two girls kept the fashion column up-to-date with reports of the latest fads in clothing and jewelry.

The regular sports column "Sport Spotlight" was in charge of Burt Veasy. Assisting with the rest of the sports page were Tommy Newton, Wayne Bullard, and Joe Moody.

As advertising manager Rep Merritt, with the aid of his assistants Ethel King, Chase Phillips, Virginia Baise, and Francis Dunbar, did an excellent job.

Killian Middleton as headline editor wrote most of the headlines on the front page.

Mrs. Sharp's second year typing classes prepared the copy for Edwards & Broughton, printers.

The April issue was in charge of the juniors with Janice Bishop managing.

The seniors published the last issue and the Hi-Times went to press for the last time this school year.

In early fall with the election of Alida Barnette editor, Martha Barber business manager, and the appointment of Shirley Merriman advertising manager work was begun on the 1951-52 edition of the LATIPAC. Following the elections, the supporting staff was chosen. Marcia McKeeman and Robin Fuller were appointed co-senior editors and wrote the "Senior Story." Jackie Moore was junior editor; Martha Apple and Peggy Sugg sophomore editors Ellen Bonner was joke editor. Pat Eldridge was appointed sports editor. The staff wishes to thank the members of journal- and typing classes who did much to help in the publication of our annual.

Pictures of the juniors and seniors were taken by Waller and Smith. The underclassmen's pictures were taken by Delmar Studio of Charlotte. Many of the other pictures were taken by Leonard Kamsler.

Shirley Merriman and her advertising staff had an even more difficult job getting ads this year with a new ruling from the Merchant's Bureau to make donations instead of giving ads. This made it necessary to visit many more business firms in order to meet our advertising quota.

In their November class meeting the seniors voted to dedicate the LATIPAC to Mr. Joseph Q. Holiday and Mr. Walter J. Gale.

The time spent writing articles, taking photographs, and collecting ads took the few spare hours of many, and here is the finished product. We hope it contains a complete account of the year 1951-1952.

We wish to express our many thanks to Miss Laura Helen Paschal, our adviser. Without her help and guidance this annual could not have been produced.

The purpose of the Junior Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

The Junior Hi-Y had many useful projects during the year. The club attended a different church as a group once a month. At Christmas, a party was given for underprivileged children. Also, the club took its annual trip to a historic city, and, at the close of the school year, the club presented a trophy to the outstanding coach of the year.

Mr. Emmett Fontaine is the adviser of the club.

Recognized as one of the most outstanding chapters in the state, the 1951-52 Needham Broughton Hi-Y leaves a record worthy of its reputation. Because of the diversification of the club projects, they had only one thing in common, hard work. Much time and effort went into the arrangements and execution of plans for the March of Dimes Campaign, the Minstrel and the dance. By sending delegates to the State Hi-Y Convention in Fayetteville, the chapter was able both to receive and give suggestions for future projects. However, the boys found opportunity to mingle social activity with their work. A club picnic was held early in December; church attendance as a body was a monthly activity; and the Father-Son Banquet produced the comradeship that only such an occasion can.

First and last the Hi-Y had as its goal to be a Christian organization, Christian in speech, Christian in sportsmanship, Christian in daily living.

The Key Club, whose motto is "We Build," is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. It is primarily and fundamentally a service club. It is an international organization composed of 16,000 boys.

This year is the Broughton Key Club's second, having been organized in September, 1950. The club is the first in Raleigh.

The club's membership is composed of boys from the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes, and they are chosen for having qualities of good character and leadership ability.

With ten members, seven of which were charter members, the Broughton club started the year. Seven new members were received into the club in December. They are Verne Caviness, "Tookie" Desern, Richard Day, and David Hostetler, Seniors; Lennox Johnson, Bill Beaty, and Tommy Newton, Juniors.

In January, the Key Club was host to a division Key Club meeting in Raleigh. The club sold drinks at all of Raleigh High's home basketball games, with the proceeds going to the high school athletic fund. Several members of the club participated in the Kiwanis Minstrel last fall, as well as selling tickets and aiding in publicity.

This year's officers were: Burt Veazey, President; Tommy Kennedy, Vice-President; Jimmy Stanford, Secretary; Johnny Abernathy, Treasurer; Bobby Gaddy, Senior Class Director; Joe Moody, Junior Class Director.

The club adviser was Mr. Allen Norris, a member of the Raleigh Kiwanis Club.

Little Theater

The Broughton Little Theater was composed of eighty-three students interested in dramatics. The officers were elected by the members, except the vice-presidents. The presidents of the dramatic classes became the vice-presidents of the Little Theater.

Meetings were held six times a semester, composing of two dinner meetings, two program meetings, and the two business meetings.

Among the numerous plays that were presented by the Little Theater, the most important was the three act comedy, Men Are Like Street Cars. This production was under the direction of Miss Doris Sparks, the adviser for the club.

Golden Masquers

Broughton's honorary dramatics society, the GOLDEN MASQUERS, recognized students who have excelled in acting and the technical work of a production. Points are received for participation, and those eligible are selected by the members. Monthly meetings are held.

Olive Worth, Pat Liles, John Horton, and Anita Fletcher were chosen by Miss

Sparks, the adviser, in the fall because of the previous members' graduation. Arlene Grisct, Bill Howell, Megan Goodwin, Danny Jones, and Peggy Carlton were admitted after the Little Theater Play.

The MASQUERS sponsored the trip to the Carolina Dramatics Festival in Chapel Hill in April. They also sponsored the one act play presented there.

Any girl in the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade is eligible for membership in the Girls' Athletic Association. This year the number of members was sixty-one. These girls were then divided into four groups, who were headed by four captains. They were Kathleen Mathews, Mary Carter, Shirley Parker, and Shirley Slocum. The teams held tournaments among themselves in basketball, volleyball, softball, badminton and touch football.

The officers this past year were Marion Lois Prescott, president; Jo Anne Powell, vice-president; Marilyn Bridgers, secretary; Neill McLeod, treasurer; and Jo Anne Powell, and Shirley Slocum, publicity chairmen.

Two hiking leaders were elected for the purpose of leading all the hikes. The hikes were held on Saturday morning, and some of them were to the Dairy Queen, Lake Johnson, Cary, Macedonia and Millbrook.

A basketball team was selected early in January. Twelve girls composed the team. The team played several other schools in the city. A student-faculty game was played, which was enjoyed by everyone.

The members could earn forty points by participating in extra sports such as skating, tennis, walking, bowling, horse-back riding, golf, badminton, ping pong, shuffleboard, and swimming.

Audio-Visual Club

The Audio-Visual Club was faced with the heaviest schedule in the history of the club. This year we have shown approximately five hundred movies; played records every Friday for the Physical Education dancing class; operated the tape recorder practically every week of the year; and played Christmas carols from the tower at Christmas. Another project was the instruction of interested eighth grade boys in the operation of Audio-Visual equipment, and in the operation of the auditorium sound system for chapel.

To guide the club this year we had Harvey Henson as chairman of the Audio-Visual Committee of the student council and Mr. Mitchell as adviser. Harvey Henson was reappointed as chairman for next year.

Girls' Monogram Club

This year is the second in the history of the Girls Monogram Club. It was organized for the purpose of stimulating interest in girls' sports. Kathleen Matthews was elected president; Jo Anne Powell, vice-president; Neill McLeod, secretary; and Shirley Sloeum, treasurer.

The first year of membership, the girls receive a letter, the second year a pin, and the third year a letter with two stars.

A point system has been devised, the numbers of points required as follows: first year, two hundred points; second year, four hundred points; and third year, six hundred points.

In the past year, the projects have been: to take charge of the girls' lounge during all home basketball games, sponsoring play-days, G. A. A. tournaments, Olympics, and a camping trip.

The Monogram Club began its 1951-1952 school year by electing the remainder of its officers. Last year's club had previously elected Chris Coley to lead this year's club. The other officers are: Vice-President, Bud Kelly; Secretary, Verne Caviness; Treasurer, Lenox Johnson; and Sergeant-at-Arms, Jerry Hartzog.

The club opened its activities with its annual dance. From the money made on this project the boys bought food for the needy families of Raleigh. In order to supplement the supply the students of the school brought can food to a chapel program. The distribution of food this year was one of the widest in the past years.

During the basketball season the Monogram Club helped to bring about good sportsmanship more keenly to the minds of the students, players and other spectators. The club sold tickets and served as ushers at all the games.

Mr. Ringgold, adviser of the club, supervised the project of keeping the cafeteria in order.

At the close of the year the club elected the most outstanding senior athlete. Pat Eldridge was awarded this trophy, in assembly. Pat, co-captain of the swimming team, was selected for his excellent swimming ability.

This year the Raleigh High Caps experienced their best season since Carroll King took over the reins as head coach. The Caps met the usual Eastern Class AAA opposition and also some tough outside competition. When the season ended the Caps had attained a record of five wins, four losses, and one tie. Doing an excellent job in the capacity of assistant coaches were Jimmy Ringgold and Chris Shay and Junior Varsity Coach Watson Holyfield. Some well earned praise is also due to Head Manager Tookie Desern and Assistants Ed Steele and Gilbert Rothstein.

RALEIGH-FUQUAY

The Raleigh Caps opened their 1951-1952 season in Raleigh against Fuquay's

Class A squad. Coach King cleared the bench as the Caps rolled to an easy victory to the tune of 32-0. The entire team played good for the opening game which proved to be a valuable asset. The Caps gained some much needed confidence and added some more fire to their will to win. The highlight of the game was a long pass from Lenox Johnson to J. C. Thomas who caught the ball on the Fuquay one yard line and went over to score. Johnson served notice that he would be a threat in both the running and passing departments, and Junk Ussery and Verne Caviness led the fine Raleigh line play. The game served its purpose by giving the locals some experience before they met some tougher conference foes.

RALEIGH-GREENSBORO

The Caps tasted their first defeat of the season on a wet and sloppy night in Greensboro's beautiful stadium. Luck rode with the inspired Whirlies as they scored a 12-0 victory over the visiting Caps. Touchdowns by Greensboro in the first and third quarters were enough to upset the Caps and allow the Whirlies to keep their string of victories over Raleigh intact. Eddie Yost ran for the first tally and Bill Whebee hit Dick Rothrock with a scoring pass in the third quarter for the only scores of the game. Both extra points missed their mark. Co-Captains Chris Coley and Junk Ussery turned in good performances for Raleigh along with Bud Kelly and Lemuel Jenkins. It was a hard game to lose with the only consolation being the fact that Greensboro is not a conference opponent.

RALEIGH-DURHAM

By Monday the loss to Greensboro was history and the Caps were looking forward to their first Eastern Class AAA Conference clash with the tough Bulldogs of Durham. Durham had just had a long winning streak shattered the week before and were expected to bounce back hard. But Raleigh could not be denied and finally came through the rough and tumble contest with a 7-0 upset victory. In the second quarter, Lenox Johnson found Tommy Newton in the end zone and hit him with a perfect strike for the winning touchdown. The play came from eight yards out. Bobby Lassiter added the extra point to complete the scoring for the night. Durham fought back hard in the second half and taxed the Cap's defense to the limit. In the final minutes the Bulldogs marched to the Raleigh two yard line and threatened to tie the score, but they were not able to cross

RALEIGH-WILSON

Raleigh seemed to be in for a rough night against the Wilson Cyclones when they fumbled five times in the first quarter and lost the ball on four of the five. Raleigh's defense held, however, and carried the Caps through until their offense started clicking in the second quarter. Bob Lassiter put the finishing touch on a 63 yard drive when he flipped a 10 yard pass to Chris Coley on the Wilson 36. Coley scooted down the sidelines to give the Caps their first score. Lassiter added the extra point and the Caps led 7-0. Raleigh covered a fumble on the Wilson 42. Six plays later Johnson crashed over left guard for the score. The extra point was missed and the Caps led at halftime by 13-0.

Raleigh took the opening kickoff of the second half and returned it to its own 46. In seven plays the Caps covered 54 yards for the score.

Coley carried the ball six times and covered 51 yards. He scored from five yards out. The light Cyclones were unable to score but did have some good moments in the second and fourth quarters with the use of their spread formation. King used his reserves sparingly and the entire bench saw action.

George Rice was a standout for Wilson while Coley, Johnson, and the whole Cap line turned in sparkling performances.

RALEIGH-CHARLOTTE

A few shirt-sleeved fans watched the Wolfpack of Charlotte Tech throw a real scare into the Caps before the Raleigh attack started clicking late in the second half. The Caps scored first, but Charlotte, with its eight starting sophomores, roared right back to take the lead at 7-6. Raleigh recovered the lead a few seconds before the end of the half when Tommy Newton pulled in a long pass in the end zone. Bobby Lassiter converted and the Caps led at halftime by a score of 13-7. Charlotte tied the score once again in the third quarter but only for a second. Their kickoff went to Chris Coley and the fleetfooted Raleigh halfback dashed 92 yards for a six-pointer. Newton snagged two more touchdown passes to run the score to 33-13 as Coach King cleared his bench in the final moments. Chris Coley turned in some excellent running and Verne Caviness, Gerry Hartzog, and John Wray were also helpful to the Raleigh cause.

RALEIGH-WILMINGTON

The Raleigh Caps turned in their best performance of the season against Wilmington's highly touted Wildcats. Raleigh led for almost the entire game and only a heart-breaking finish prevented them from scoring their first victory over Wilmington since 1947. Wilmington tallied 14 points in the last seven and one half minutes to tie the game at 27-27. The Caps ran wild in the first quarter, scoring three touchdowns, and leaving the field at halftime with a 20-6 lead. The Caps took the opening kickoff on their own 34. Don Voorhees made 13 yards in two carries, moving the ball to the 47. Chris Coley took the ball on the next play and went the distance for six points. Bobby Lassiter added the first of his three extra points. Lenox Johnson hit Newton with a touchdown pass for the second score of the first quarter. Bobby Lassiter climaxed a long drive when he cracked over from the three yard line to supply the third tally. The third quarter had just begun when Gerry Hartzog pitched out wide to Coley and when Coley stopped he had covered 76 yards to the Wildcat goal. Wilmington, however, kept fighting back, mainly through the efforts of Burt Grant and two of his targets, Julian Rogers and Dan Skinner. With little more than seven minutes left in the game they pulled within seven points of the tiring Caps, and with only a few seconds remaining, Burt Grant, passing from the Raleigh eight, hit Skinner in the end zone. On the next play, Grant calmly stepped up and booted the extra point to tie the score. Although it was not easy to take a tie instead of a victory, there was some consolation in that it was still an upset and also the only blemish on State Champion Wilmington's record. Burt Grant, Flo Worrell and Julian Rogers led the visitors. Chris Coley, Bud Kelly, Junk Ussery, and Bobby Lassiter stood out in a fine performance by the entire Raleigh squad.

RALEIGH-GOLDSBORO

Goldsboro's Earthquakes struck quickly and were able to hold their lead and provide themselves with an upset victory over the Raleigh Caps. The boys from Goldsboro were inspired by a huge Homecoming celebration and won over the Caps in a battle that saw tempers flare from the opening minutes. On the second play from scrimmage, Goldsboro caught the Raleigh defense with its pants down and completed a pass good for 64 yards and a touchdown. The conversion gave them a 7-0 lead. Raleigh seemed to be getting back into the ball game when Lemuel Jenkins recovered a fumble on the Goldsboro 23 yard line. The Caps marched to the four but there a fumble on a pitchout play ended their best scoring opportunity. Again in the second quarter Goldsboro scored on a screen pass. This play covered 62 yards. This concluded the scoring for the evening, for, even though the Caps had several chances in the second half, they couldn't push the ball across. Bobby Bryan and D. C. Daughtry looked good for Goldsboro, while Lemuel Jenkins and Don Voorhees stood out for Raleigh. Final score; Goldsboro 13, Raleigh 0.

RALEIGH-BURLINGTON

and Homecoming Dance with a 14-12 victory over Burlington's Western Class AAA Conference Bulldogs. The Riddick Stadium crowd cheered as Bob Lassiter put two perfect placements through the goal posts to supply the margin of victory. Jackie Murdock covered thirteen yards in two quarterback sneaks to give Raleigh its first score. A break for Raleigh came later in the game when the Burlington safetyman fumbled one of Junk Ussery's kicks. Tommy Newton recovered the ball for Raleigh on the Bulldogs' 13 yard line and a few plays later Don Voorhees cracked over for the score. Burlington came back to score twelve points but to no avail. These were the first touchdowns of the year for both Murdock and Voorhees. Newton, Caviness, Thomas, Murdock, and Voorhees were outstanding for the Caps.

Eastern Conference twice with the exception of Wilmington who whipped them only once in Wilmington. After winning ten out of eleven starts, the Caps found themselves scheduled to play Durham in the game which would determine the Eastern Conference champions. Upon the start of the game, the Caps trailed Durham by several points. Then an incident occurred which Raleigh fans will remember for a long time. A spectator threw a snowball onto the

The Raleigh Capitals began their most successful basketball season in 16 years rather slowly. After downing Kinston in the opening game the Raleigh eagles went into a slump and were overpowered by Winston-Salem, Burlington, and Carolina Frosh. But upon the opening game of the Eastern Conference schedule, the Caps fell into full stride, and began to knock over practically every challenging team. The potential Raleigh squad beat every team in the ing game of the AAA Championship. Led by "Ducky" Hayes and J. C. Thomas with 18 points apiece and Lenox Johnson with 12, the Caps breezed through with an 88 to 54 victory. Incidentally, the Caps broke three tourney records in this game.

The red hot Raleigh squad then met Charlotte Central in the semi-finals. They triumphed 56 to 50 but were cooled off considerably from the previous game. The boys played court which disrupted the game. After play was resumed, the Bulldogs found that the snowball had cooled them off considerably, and the rest proved profitable to the Caps. Durham saw a fired Raleigh team pull ahead to win the game and the Eastern Conference championship.

The proud Raleigh team was then entered in the State Championship Tournament in Durham. They were seded to play Asheville in the open-an excellent defensive game which proved to be enough to stop the Central offensive. J. C. Thomas bucketed 20 points and little Jackie Murdock collected ten to lead the Cap offensive.

Raleigh then found that it was face to face with the greatest task of the season—the State Championship game. Clever playmaking, fairly accurate shooting, and a tremendous spirit of determination to win were the main factors which led the Caps on to win the game by a tight score of 51 to 49. It was a long see-saw battle which saw Jackie Murdock lead his mates to victory. The game went “nip and tuck” all the way. Then Murdock sank his one hand push with one minute remaining, stole the ball, and went into a deep freeze until the final gun sounded. “Sparky” Murdock collected 15 points while Hayes and Thomas dropped in 13 and 12 respectively. It was a very happy and enthusiastic team of Raleigh Capitals who were crowned “State Champs” for 1952 basketball season.

Our tankers were the surprise team of the year. They started the year with only seven lettermen. A majority of the boys were lost via graduation. The season began slowly. In their first meet the mermen were swamped by Gramby High of Norfolk. With more experience, they began to improve. They came through the Southern Interscholastic Meet in the fine style of previous years and brought home the trophy for the third straight year. After that, Coach Underwood's squad copped the State Meet for the third year in a row, and the Duke Invitational for the fourth consecutive year. The boys really did an excellent job, and Coach Underwood, in his first year as coach, should be commended for a job well done. Lynwood Eubanks, Co-captain Pat Eldridge, Larry Ellis, and Ned Meekins were the main cogs on the championship team.

Girls' Athletic Association

With the help of the Girl's Monogram Club, which acted as a planning board, the activities of the G. A. A. got underway earlier than usual this year. After devoting the first two meetings to the business of electing officers and dividing the group into four teams, the girls began the year with touch football. Battling away once a week. The girls learned to appreciate the football team and to enjoy the games through better understanding of football.

Following on the heels of football was volleyball. Two nets were set up to allow two games after short business meetings. Aided by referee instruction classes conducted by the adviser, Miss Suggs, G. A. A. members officiated the games.

These referee instructions were continued during basketball season. The girls began the year in basketball by playing Cathedral on January 4. Since the G. A. A. team had not been chosen, any girls interested were allowed to play. Sixteen team members and two managers were later chosen after Miss Suggs had observed the girls during G. A. A. games and tryouts. Basketball practice was held on Tuesdays with regular G. A. A. meetings on Fridays.

Highlights of the year were the publication of the G. A. A. of the month in the Hi-Times, a picnic held in October, play-days in volleyball and basketball, the Olympics, and the two camping trips at Crabtree Creek.

Some of the hikes this year were to Neuse River, Lake Johnson, the Dairy Queen, Cary, Macedonia, Lassiter's Mill, and Millbrook.

Spring activities included badminton, tennis and baseball.

The ten top girls having over 200 points at the end of the year were awarded letters. Girls having already won a letter earned 200 additional points the second year for a pin, and those girls who had earned both a letter and a pin had to have 200 points the third year to receive a letter with two stars.

The girls proudly wear these awards, for they symbolize many hours spent in G. A. A. activities. Requirements for awards are as follows:

75 points for organized hiking (one point a mile)

40 outside points (point an hour for playing tennis, skating, walking, and other individual sports.)

The other points are earned by participating in gym and G. A. A. tournaments, by being elected to offices, by being on the varsity teams, and by participating in play-days.

One can easily see how the purposes of promoting interest in girls' sports and of providing the girls with a means of wholesome recreation are accomplished by this wide range of activities in the G. A. A. each year.

The Senior Story

The fall of 1948 found us feeling almost like sub-freshmen again. During the summer, headlines in the News and Observer vowed, "New Broughton Day Looms If New Head Has His Way"; the Gale regime was here, starting high school along with us. Back at Broughton was Mary B. Cannon, our new class adviser, who had been in England as an exchange teacher.

With that dreadful "sub" taken away from our class, we started our freshman year with enthusiasm and a new out-look. Had not Principal Gale promised, "There'll be some changes made"? But we were too busy changing classes, groaning over Latin, puzzling algebra, and taking phys. ed. to worry about that. Even our hours after school were being filled up: girls joined Y-Teens and the F.H.A.; boys longed to be in the Hi-Y or to play junior varsity sports; and many joined the Glee Club. Members of the Glee Club participated in the operetta, Riding Down the Sky. Playing main roles were our Bill Crisp and Joe Fergusson.

As our officers for our first year in high school, we elected Woody Tucker to lead the class. The other officers were Pat Eldridge, serving his second year as vice-president; Lenore Green, secretary; Tommy Kennedy, treasurer; and Bud Kelly, sergeant-at-arms. Lenore proved quite adapt as a secretary, for in the spring the Student Body elected her to be secretary of the Student Council for the coming year.

The idea of having a club period two times a week during school met our approval, but what club to join was another matter. We made the choice, tried to find time to do such things as homework, found that homecoming was near, and Thanksgiving and Christmas were just around the corner. Sponsoring our class for homecoming was Betty Hicks.

The vacation at Christmas was fine, but the light dawned on us when we returned: We had to take exams this year! The upper classmen took it harder than we, for this year each exam was to be almost two hours long. About two weeks of gloom descended upon the school, but in no time at all we were back in the usual status and looking forward to a successful basketball season, Queen of Hearts, and our class dance. Successful season is an understatement for the results of the basketball season, for in that memorable year Broughton had a clean slate of eighteen consecutive wins and no losses, including two wins over Hugh Morson for the city championship. It was heartbreaking that that great team could not play in the State Championships, for it was Hugh Morson's year to represent Raleigh. Thus was brought about the change in the city athletic system for the years to come that would not let this happen again. It was also the year that the Swimming Team won the State Championship, and several of our freshmen boys could be found on that winning squad.

For the first time in Broughton's history junior varsity cheerleaders were elected. Lenore Green Joanne Curry, and Chris Coley represented our class on the eight member squad. (Could this have been where the mighty Coley started his athletic career?)

Forty-nine was the year for the meeting of the State Legislature. Pages from the freshman class were Bud Kelly and Clyde Robinson.

The climax of our class activities came in April with our annual class dance. Of course, the theme was "April Showers." After that, most thoughts were turned to final exams; what to do during the summer; and Hooray, only one more year of Latin and no more phys. ed!!

By the fall of '49 we were beginning to feel like "oldtimers" at Broughton. Going back to school wasn't so bad after all . . . why, it was nice to be back and see old friends, compare suntans, and go to the football games on Friday nights.

By October, though, suntans were beginning to fade, and we were comfortably back in the "old grind." The campaign spirit popped out as our class elections began. Bobby Gaddy won the honor of being our sophomore class president. Others elected were Thomas White, vice-president; Eleanor Byrd, secretary; Patsy Paulson, treasurer; and Phil Johnson, sergeant-at-arms. Selling pennants for all the athletic events was the class project. At homecoming Lenore Green was the sponsor for President Gaddy.

Very early in the year we realized we had quite a writer in our midst, for Killian Middleton won four hundred dollars worth of prizes and a trip to the World Series by giving the best answer to the question, "I like baseball because."

Gay Christmas holidays came quickly and were naturally followed by the "not so gay" mid-term exams. Sophomore year is biology year, and during the spring more than one sophomore could be found, diligently looking for a "Ranunculus aeris" (otherwise known as the common buttercup!) for his or her herbarium.

Election for Queen of Hearts was handled differently that year. Voting was carried on by the individual classes to choose their class representatives; and the Senior Class, sponsor of the event, received no profit, except from the Coronation Ball. We were proud of the pulchritude displayed by our two sophomore attendants when Ann Shaw and Lenore Green walked down the aisle to meet their escorts, Thomas White and Verne Caviness.

St. Patrick's Day, March 17, was the occasion of the year for us. That night sophomores and other Broughton students enjoyed dancing in a gym decorated in green and white with huge shamrocks.

In April the swimming team finished another successful season. A list of the season's honors included first places in the high school division of the Southeastern Interscholastic and the Southern Scholastic meets, first place in the Duke Invitational, and first place in the State Championships. The promising young sophomore members were Pat Eldridge, Billy Staton, Lynwood Eubanks, and Bobby Gaddy.

LATIPAC signing filled those last few days, and, perhaps, we held our heads a little higher . . . WE WERE NOW UPPERCLASSMEN!

We returned to our junior year, the next to last chapter of our lives at Broughton, with a new outlook. Maturity and reality came a bit closer when we saw old friends leave for "Destination Korea," or wondered where the boy next to us would be a year or two from now.

The Key Club was organized and three junior boys, Bobby Gaddy, Tommy Kennedy, and Jimmy Stanford, became charter members.

Nineteen hundred and fifty was a year of changes, changes, changes everywhere at Broughton. The interest-core subject was finally understood, but just where to go on what days found us walking around like sub-freshmen again. But the biggest indignity was suffered when we were told that WE HAD to take gym. Girls thought, "That means my hair will be straight twice a week again"; and boys groaned with the thought of, "Oberlin Road, here

I Come!" However, the new inter-communication was a change that was welcomed. The Student Council was not to be outdone by changes; it presented the Student Body with a revised constitution, which was promptly ratified. The revised constitution gave birth to a new Student Council Committee, the Student Co-operative Committee. The purpose of the committee was to work with pupils and faculty in striving to bring the student body to accept greater responsibilities with integrity and dependability. Not a change, but definitely, new was the publication of the Broughton literary magazine, Winged Words. Many juniors not only helped get the issue ready for publication, but also contributed excellent pieces of creative writing to it.

Selections from the "Messiah" by the Glee Club and a short comedy, "Don't Open Till Christmas," by the Little Theater were presented to the school just before Christmas vacation; and juniors were busy with both productions. In the play were Anita Fletcher, Lenore Green, Joanne Curry and Olive Worth.

December was overflowing with activities. Besides helping with the play and the Glee Club program juniors were found on the stage at the Kiwanis minstrel, decorating for the Monogram Club Dance and the Student Council Christmas Dance, assisting the Social Standards and Hospitality Committees at the tea for new students, writing for the Hi-Times, and bringing food for the Monogram Club's needy family project. Vacation would be a welcome rest, but even that was filled—the mad whirl of dances, parties, teas, and trips just didn't leave any time for exam studying.

We found the Student-Faculty game and the Little Theater play, "The Baby Sitter," grateful diversions after that long week of staying home with books, books, and more books. Olive Worth and Jimmy Higgins were the only juniors in "The Baby Sitter."

Honored for their high standards of character, leadership, service, and scholarship at the February tapping of the Honor Society were Marion Lois Prescott, Robin Fuller, Billy Russ, and Helen Maynard.

Our basketball team continued to thrill us with its winning. At the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum, Raleigh played a game with Rocky Mount to arouse the community interest and spirit. Raleigh won, 47-35. Later, in March, many Broughtonites traveled to Durham to see Raleigh place second in the State Championships by, bowing to Wilmington, 65-50, in the finals.

Spring meant the annual New York Trip, which juniors Alida Barnette, Marcia McKeeman, and Martha Barber made; Service Club induction for juniors; and the Junior-Senior prom. Recognized for their outstanding and unselfish service to the school were Tookie Desern, Bobby Gaddy, Verne Caviness, Billy Dozier, Mary Chappell, and Alida Barnette. Juniors and seniors came on board the "S. S. Broughton Belle" at the class prom. The whole gym was magically transformed into a showboat of the old South.

In April the Student Council of Broughton played host to the Central District Student Council Congress. Juniors acting as official hosts and hostesses for the event were vice-president Bobby Gaddy, Ann Shaw, Clyde Robinson, Dot Jones, Verne Caviness, Lenore Green, Helen Maynard, and Robin Fuller.

Our junior year was a working year—especially with class projects. From house to house went "those junior supersalesmen" enthusiastically selling magazine subscriptions with the encouraging thought that each commission dollar would be dropped into the class treasury. Other dollars came our way when we sold drinks at all the basketball games and plays. With a sigh of relief we finished these projects and passed them on to the next year's junior class.

April proved not to be "the calm before the storm," May. At Career Day and College Night we were brought closer to the reality of college. The Student Council again sponsored a Student Leader's Banquet. Also entertaining on the banquet idea was the Spanish Club. Playing in the Raleigh Piano Ensemble were juniors Roberta Dixon and Jimmy Standford. A big event was the Hi-Y minstrel, "The Spring Follies of 1951," whose co-author was Bob Gaddy. In the minstrel chorus were Hi-Y members Tookie Desern, Bobby Gaddy, David Hostetler, Tommy Kennedy, Eddie Cothran, Burt Veazey, and Pat Eldridge.

During the summer we were proud to send four of the outstanding members of our class to represent us at various conferences. Alida Barnette was chosen to attend Girls' State. Attending Boys' State were Tookie Desern and Bobby Gaddy. Bobby was elected lieutenant-governor; and, as a result of that, he was one of two delegates from North Carolina to attend Boys' Nation in Washington, D. C. The Good-Fellows of Raleigh sponsored Verne Caviness on a trip to Washington, D. C., New York, and Boston. While in New York, Verne visited the United Nations Assembly.

The Raleigh tankers again came through with flying colors. They repeated their past two year's records with the winning of the Southeastern Interscholastic and Southern Interscholastic Meets at Atlanta and Chapel Hill, the Duke Invitational, and the State Championship.

"Gaddy Wins Council Election on Nominations" ran a banner headline in the May issue of the Hi-Times. Again our Bobby had proven himself a leader among leaders and became the third person in Broughton history to win the Student Council presidency on nominations. Not to be forgotten for their share of Council honors were Verne Caviness, sergeant-at-arms, and Billy Dozier, treasurer.

"May the good Lord bless and keep you,

Whether near or far away;

May you find that long awaited Golden Day today . . .

We sang those words to our farewell song written by Ellen Bonner at the last assembly. They were no longer seniors; we had taken their place. Our Senior Story, the last chapter of our lives at Broughton, yet remained to be written.

ROBIN FULLER.

One-hundred and 81 days have a way of passing very quickly, especially when you wish they would not. Another year at Broughton has become a chapter past in the history of a wonderful school and none realize the finality of this year quite so acutely as the Seniors. For them 1952 has shown progress, co-operation, and accomplishment.

Do you remember? The story of our last, and perhaps our greatest year, began when. . .

A perfect summer had flown quickly by and 8:45 on Tuesday morning, September 4 came all too soon for most of us. Those long relaxing hours in the classroom which supposedly would not be so relaxing. As seniors, which we neither realized or felt, we began our last first day at Broughton with mixed emotions of sentimentality and relief. It couldn't be us to whom those new Sub-freshmen were looking up! How could we explain to them that we were almost as lost as they were, what with all the new improvements that had been made around the school during the summer. The library with its bright red circular seats took our breath away and so did the remodeled office, but for an entirely different reason. Everyone remarked about the row of chairs lined up against the long corridor wall—just the place to wait comfortably for an important conference with Mr. Gale.

The strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" will haunt us forever, for it heralded our first official entrance to Assembly as Seniors. We tried to laugh like we were old hands at this, but with all eyes upon us as we marched slowly into the auditorium, many felt a lump rise in his throat.

Every group must have its leader and when class elections rolled around we voted Clyde Robinson the person most capable and deserving of the position of Senior Class president. Joyce Carpenter was elected secretary, David Smith, sergeant-at-Arms; and Catherine Coley, treasurer. Later in the year when Catherine resigned, Betsy Swain filled her post.

With a rousing "Yea, team," our vivacious senior cheerleaders; Lenore Green, Ann Shaw, Dot Jones, and Joanne Curry led us into football season, a better season perhaps than Raleigh had seen in several years. True, we lost a few games, but even better, remember the night we all lost our voices when the Caps beat Durham or the night we tied Wilmington. When the end of the season rolled around, the awards came thick and fast to Broughton seniors on the team. Co-Captain, Chris Coley made All-Eastern; Bud Kelly received the Ambassador Theater's award for the "Most Valuable Player," and Verne Caviness got the new "Sportsmanship" trophy.

October was indeed a full month at Broughton. The first issue of the Hi-Times came out under the capable management of Arlene Grisct. Clyde Robinson created school-wide interest in the editorials which were definitely both to the point and quite controversial.

While the majority of the girls in school were rejoicing because they did not have to take showers after phys ed due to the water shortage, the Seniors went ahead with their plans for the Little Brother-Sister Week. In order to make the sub-freshman feel more a part of the school, each one of us adopted an eighth grader and entertained them all at a dance in the gym one Friday afternoon and then later at a J. V. football game.

October also brought Fair Week and Raleigh's panda bear population became greatly increased. The medical profession did a booming business the day after the holiday given to all the public schools. Why is it that foot-long hot dogs and cotton candy are always so conducive to tummy aches? We all wondered!

Who will dispute that Homecoming is one of the outstanding events of the year? This year the parade was on Friday afternoon and we battled successfully against Burlington Saturday night. Enthusiasm was at its usual high peak around school and hard work and original ideas made the big parade a huge success. Another mark in our win column was responsible for the success of the game. Need more be said?

November found us holding our sides and laughing heartily at the Little Theater's production of Men Are Like Streetcars, directed by Miss Sparks, patron saint of the dramatics department. This comedy concerning teen-age love complications starred such seniors as: Arlene Grisct, Bill Howell, Pat Liles, Lee Garner, Bill Ragsdale, Bill Crisp, Sandra Goe, and Anita Fletcher.

Upon Mr. Gale's recommendation we accepted as our Senior Class project the sponsoring of a production of The Tempest, to be given by the London Touring Players. The performance was scheduled for February 4, but later we had to change the date to March 4, due to some slight difficulties. However, the spirit of willingness and co-operation with which the class tackled the ticket sales for this was something to be proud of.

It was time to dedicate our annual and it took us only a short time to decide that no two persons were more deserving than Mr. Gale and Mr. Holiday, for these two men had guided our development as a class and as individuals. The hours that they had spent working with all of us extended far beyond those covered by the average school day, and we wanted to show our appreciation.

After an impressive Thanksgiving chapel program, four days of welcome vacation followed. We all revitalized our little selves with lots of turkey, parties, sleeping and no books because the days from then to Christmas would be busy ones.

When the Monogram Club erected their food bin in the front hall, it was a sure sign that Christmas was on its way. Soon the canned goods and produce began to pile up and as usual their drive to help needy families in Raleigh was a huge success. The Club also successfully held their annual Christmas dance in the gym.

A week later we were all rolling crepe paper again for the Student Council dance which was informal this year and a bigger success than ever. Why even Santa Claus (Morrison Hogwood) was there!

The true meaning of the Yuletide season filled our hearts as we rose to the Hallelujah Chorus, sung by the mixed chorus at the Christmas assembly. The organ, which was so kindly lent to us by Mr. E. R. Poole, greatly enriched our enjoyment of the program.

When we returned to school on January 3, 1952, all we could say was "Now it's really our year." We had felt rather strange being Seniors in '51, but now the year had turned, the class of '52 was really on top. A few weeks later we toppled from our perch; exams had come. We plowed through these and happily found ourselves on top once more.

A little late in addressing Christmas cards, but still definitely very useful was the Student Telephone Directory put out by the Juniors which arrived with the new year.

Recognition came again to three Seniors when the Honor Society held their tapping in the second semester. Linda Piland, Elizabeth Floyd, and Dacosta Stephenson became the proud new owners of the gold pins with the torch on them.

In much flourish and fan-fare, Lenore Green was crowned Queen of Hearts of 1952. For two days she reigned supreme with her maid-of-honor, Ann Shaw, and surrounded by her court. Senior attendants were: Louisa Mordecai, Faye Oliver, and Marcia McKeeman. Saturday night they danced under the light of a huge red heart which illuminated the gym. This was probably the biggest thrill of the year for all of these girls.

It was difficult to pick out of our wonderful class, ten people who were exceptional in the five fields in which we elect superlatives. Bobby Gaddy and Patsy Paulson were chosen Mr. and Miss Needham Broughton because they so well exemplified the all-round student with the high characteristics that Broughton stands for. For their prowess in sports and their high standards of sportsmanship, Bud Kelly and Kathleen Matthews were elected Sports superlatives. To Clyde Robinson and Helen Maynard belonged the highest averages in the senior class and they automatically became our Scholarship superlatives. There wasn't much that Verne Caviness and Ann Shaw couldn't do and didn't do to improve and support our school, so we voted them Versatility superlatives. With their fine looks and personality, Nancy Linville and Tommy Kennedy rarely miss a dance or party and they became our Beau and Belle.

So much happened in March that we can't remember whether it came or went like a lamb or a lion, but we do recall hearing about a group of students that went to New York like lions and returned awed and quiet like little lambs. Probably one of the most anticipated events of the year is the trip to New York taken every year by many seniors and journalism students. It is both educational and entertaining, taking in several musicals as well as trips to the U. N. and the ferry boat ride to Staten Island.

Those who didn't go to New York, invaded Durham that weekend as Raleigh played the State Tournament there. With the tournament over, the weary travelers returned from New York laden with souvenirs (swiped and otherwise) and their Easter finery.

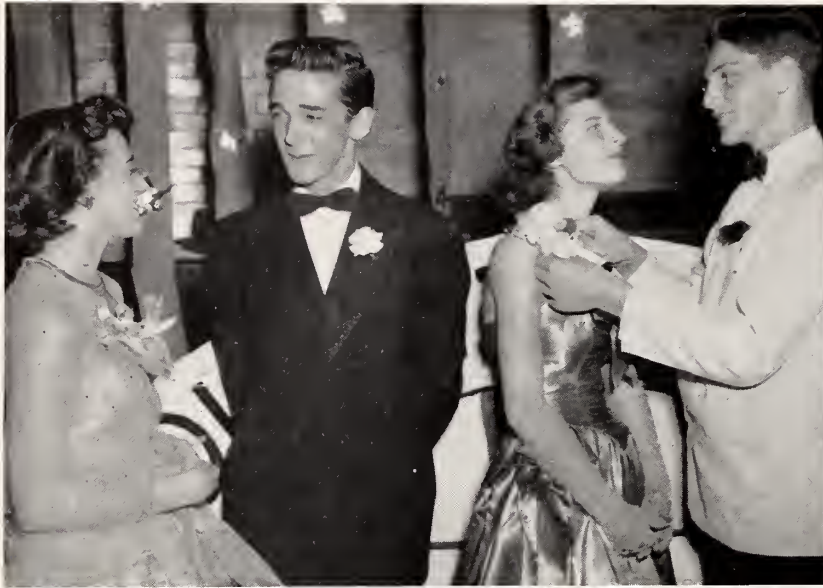

April brought us Easter Sunday, spring, and among other things, the Hi-Y minstrel. We couldn't help but laugh at the hilarious slapstick that took place in a Gay Nineties "milk" bar room where the first act of the Minstrel was held. Bud Kelly, Bubber Jordon, Verne Caviness, Chris Coley, David Smith, John Wray, Heath Pemberton, and Bill Russ, all of whom had been initiated during the year took part in the show which will always be remembered as a tremendous success. As if this wasn't enough for one year, the Hi-Y dance followed two weeks later.

We realized that our days of rolling crepe paper were over at Broughton as we watched the juniors decorate for the Jr.-Sr. This dance was in honor of us. We were the Seniors. It was so hard to realize.

Realization hit us hard as we finished our final exams and Senior week began. Our caps and gowns arrived, pictures were being taken madly and everyone had a party. This was what we had been looking forward to all year, but it came so fast. Our gaiety was intermingled with moments of reminiscence and sadness. We voted for Bill Beaty to succeed our own Bobby Gaddy. We received our annuals before all the rest of the students and we put out our special and our last edition of the Hi-Times. Class night and senior assembly were perhaps the saddest moments of all because for the first time we felt the finality of it all. Graduation would be just an anti-climax. We hoped and prayed that Bobby and Clyde would express in the farewell addresses the deep emotions and the appreciation that we all felt in our hearts. However you seldom realize how much your high school years mean to you until the last few days and then they pass as quickly through your thoughts as they did in reality.

What does the class feel as it realizes that it will soon have cut its last caper in the Broughton halls? That's hard to say, but a group of people, even if they never spoke a word to each other, could not spend even a year together without feeling a certain affinity. When a group has spent two, three, or four years working towards the same goals and sharing common interests, there's a very strong bond. Naturally it is difficult to realize that next winter the members of this bond and team will be scattered all over the country, each working for a different team and purpose. Naturally it is also difficult to realize that Broughton will continue to exist after the departure of "52." By the time the Senior class graduates it has had its finger in practically every school activity, and it is strange to think that the dyke will not break when the finger is removed. But our chief emotion is that of thanks to Broughton, for Broughton has opened to us so many new vistas, mentally, physically, and spiritually. As one we raise a voice which says, "Thank you Broughton, for you have given us something rich and rewarding for the past and present, but what is so much more, you have touched our hearts with fire and we shall look upward and climb."

MARCIA McKEEMAN.

We don't believe it either. You are not too young to take your place in the progressive economy that distinguishes America. You are not too young to plan and work to make a future dream come true. Part of your plan should be an early decision regarding life insurance because rates are relatively low when you're young. Your own business future might lie in the field of insurance service to your friends and neighbors. We, here at Occidental, know that it's a mighty satisfying way to make a good living. It's been wonderful being with you this year. Haven't we had fun? Course, we have. I'm really looking forward to next year.
Just think we'll be sophomores.
You're a learning girl. Stay that together and have loads of fun.

Mrs. Fonville: Who's the Speaker of the House?
Chris C.: Mother.

Be sweet
God Bless you.

Just think only three more years before you graduate (I say you because it will probably take me around 7 or 8 years to make it.

I have changed greatly since I met you. I have become a better person and you are greatly responsible.

Marilyn at last graduates. As much as I talk mean about her I will miss her at home and at school more than
I will be ever able to say.

I had better stop now!

Yours,
